

EISENHOWER RE-ELECTED BY LANDSLIDE

3 County Democratic Candidates are Elected

Name Coroner, Circuit Clerk, State's Attorney

County Voters Give Ike 1,118 Margin; Against Stratton

Saline county voters yesterday gave President Eisenhower a margin of 1,118 ballots, Senator Dirksen a 233-vote plurality and the edge to seven other Republican state candidates, but defeated Gov. Stratton in this county by 306 votes, gave Democratic Congressman Gray a margin of 893 and elected three Democratic county candidates. Democrats also held margins for one other state office and two court clerk posts.

Named to county offices were Robert V. Wilson, re-elected state's attorney without opposition; James R. Burroughs, elected circuit clerk over incumbent Quentin Bowers by an unofficial 117 margin and James Thornton, elected coroner over incumbent Elmer Gibbons by an unofficial 246 votes.

Voting Close
Defeat of the incumbent Bowers and Gibbons wiped out the last remaining Republican county offices in Saline county.

The Saline county voting was so close all through the night that except for the vote for President, the results were in doubt until the last polling place reported.

All vote results were complete but unofficial. A canvass will be made in a few days to make them official.

Besides going for Eisenhower, 8,360 to 7,270 over Adlai Stevenson and for Everett M. Dirksen over Richard Stengel, 7,691 to 7,458, for U. S. Senator, the Republicans won in Saline county as follows:

Lieutenant Governor: John William Chapman over Roscoe Bonjean, 7,549 to 7,467.

Secretary of State: Charles F. Carpenter over David F. Mallett, 7,733 to 7,458.

State Auditor: Elbert S. Smith over Michael J. Howlett, 7,540 to 7,510.

State Treasurer: Elmer J. Hoffman over Arthur L. Hellyer, 7,582 to 7,457.

Attorney General: Latham Castle over James L. O'Keefe, 7,552 to 7,455.

University Trustees: Wayne A. Johnston (7,516) and Earl M. Hughes (7,504).

Democrats in Saline county led in the following:

Supreme Court Clerk: James P. Alexander 7,574, Mrs. Earle Benjamin Searcy 7,375.

University Trustee: Joseph Bruce Campbell 7,491.

Appellate Court Clerk: James R. McLaughlin over Earl Pollock, 7,472 to 7,438.

Congress: Kenneth J. Gray over Samuel J. Scott, 8,110 to 7,217.

Circuit Clerk: James R. Burroughs over Quentin Bowers, 7,710 to 7,593.

Coroner: James Thornton over Elmer M. Gibbons, 7,761 to 7,515.

The Socialist Labor vote in Saline county was extremely light and scattered.

Republicans Sweep to Victory in Illinois; Narrow Margin for Stratton

Capture Seven State Offices; 14 House Seats

CHICAGO (AP) — The entire Republican ticket swept to victory in Illinois today behind the Eisenhower landslide.

The Republicans took all seven state offices, including governor and auditor.

The Republicans piled up a huge margin of votes in giving the President Illinois' 27 electoral votes, reelected U. S. Sen. Everett Dirksen, and captured all seven state offices, including governor and auditor.

Eisenhower had a total of 2,200,162 votes to Stevenson's 1,506,499.

Republican incumbent Dirksen had 2,066,227 votes to Democratic Richard Stengel's 1,741,905 in the race for senator with 8,797 precincts counted.

The Democrats not only failed to win the one senate seat at stake, one Democratic representative was defeated by a Republican candidate. The election gave the Republicans 14 seats in the House and left the Democrats with 11.

Gov. William G. Stratton trailed the ticket, presumably as a result of the Hodge scandal. But he defeated Democrat Richard B. Austin by more than 45,000 votes.

With 8,805 of the state's 9,588 precincts counted, Stratton had 1,959,236 votes to Austin's 1,909,241.

In the race for state auditor, State Sen. Elbert Smith of Decatur whipped Michael Howlett, credited with tipping off the Chicago Daily News to the scandal that sent former State Auditor Orville Hodge to prison.

With 8,935 of the state's 9,588 precincts tallied, Smith had 2,003,250 votes to his Democratic opponent's 1,796,380.

Lt. Gov. John W. Chapman won re-election over Roscoe Bonjean. With 8,817 precincts counted, Chapman had 1,978,852 to Bonjean's 1,835,352.

Secretary of State Charles F. Carpenter defeated David F. Mallett, 2,155,637 to 1,653,258, with returns from 8,813 precincts.

Another Republican incumbent, Atty. Gen. Latham Castle, won re-election over James L. O'Keefe by 2,074,345 votes to 1,700,381 on the basis of returns from 8,882 precincts.

In the race for state treasurer, Republican Elmer J. Hoffman piled up 2,025,808 votes to 1,792,882 for Arthur J. Hellyer, with 8,977 precincts reported.

For clerk of the supreme court, returns from 9,770 precincts gave the Republican, Mrs. Fae L. Searcy, 2,576,975 to 2,524,029 for Democrat James P. Alexander.

Solit Ticket in Hamilton County
Hamilton county voters re-elected State's Attorney Frank Bonan (D) over Robert L. Burns and re-elected Coroner Elmo Gholson (D) over Walter "Pa" Sanders in Tuesday's voting. Incumbent Circuit Clerk Wilburn E. Prince (D) was defeated by W. K. "Tommy" Carlton.

The county went for Eisenhower by nearly a thousand, and gave Judge Austin a slight majority over Governor Stratton.

State Senator Paul Ziegler, Carlin Democrat, 55th District, carried Hamilton county, and is reported to have been re-elected over Luther Burpo, West Frankfort Republican opponent.

Magnuson Wins
SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — President Eisenhower won Washington state's nine electoral votes Tuesday but his hand-picked candidate for a Senate seat was defeated by Democratic incumbent Warren G. Magnuson.

Gov. William G. Stratton

Sen. E. M. Dirksen

Sen. Butler Loses Re-Election Bid

Senator Homer Butler, Marion Republican, apparently was nosed out in his race for re-election to the state legislature.

Unofficial but complete returns for the district show that he was beaten by William L. Grindle of Herrin by 567 votes.

Williamson county elected three Republican county officers and the Democrats one in county voting.

Byrl Turner beat DeWayne Linton for circuit clerk, Carl Sneed defeated James Bleyer for state's attorney and Adolph Fluck beat Ora Collard for coroner, Democrat elected was Henry Wright, who beat John Henderson for county commissioner, and this gives the Democrats control of the Williamson county board of commissioners.

Extinguish Blaze
The fire department extinguished a blaze at the Sugar Creek creamery house at the Kroger store at 7:45 a. m. today. A gasoline burner flooded and flamed up, firemen said. There was no damage.

Congressman Gray Leads Scott By 10,709 Votes; Vote Nearly Complete

Incumbent Kenneth Gray, West Frankfort Democrat, will retain his post as congressman from the 25th Illinois district, results compiled by the United Press showed today.

Figures revealed that with but ten precincts missing in the 15 counties of the district, Gray was leading his Republican opponent, Samuel Jack Scott of Metropolis, by 10,709 votes.

A total of 354 precincts out of 364 in the district gave Gray 78,038 votes to Scott's 67,329.

The tabulation by counties with the number of precincts counted:

West Virginia Elects Republican Senator, Governor

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — West Virginia snapped its long-time Democratic moorings at the top level today, giving sizeable pluralities to President Eisenhower and his Republican running mates for U. S. senator and governor.

The GOP sweep in the races for president, governor and senator was the first the Republicans have registered in the state since 1928.

But the Democrats kept control over statewide offices and the state legislature.

Mr. Eisenhower, radiating good health, solemnly vowed today to continue working for peace "with whatever strength there is within me."

The triumphant chief executive uttered the pledge at a Republican victory rally shortly before 2 a. m.

Mr. Eisenhower, "delighted" about his landslide victory, emerged from his reelection campaign in better physical shape than many of his associates had anticipated.

Dr. Howard McC. Snyder, the President's physician, was reported exceedingly happy about Mr. Eisenhower's ability to face another four years in the White House.

"Good Physical Shape"
Snyder did not talk for publication, but other White House aides passed along the word that the President finished his reelection effort in "good physical shape."

The President had just finished one of the busiest days of his campaign when he and Mrs. Eisenhower went to a howling Republican rally at Washington's Sheraton Park Hotel to tell his supporters he was "delighted" about his victory.

He was in his office at 8 a. m. for conferences with acting Secretary of State Herbert Hoover Jr. and Central Intelligence Agency Director Allen Dulles on the foreign crises.

Mr. Eisenhower motored to Gettysburg, Pa., to vote and then flew back to Washington to resume urgent conferences on the cease-fire in the Middle East.

Yet, at 2 a. m., when he escorted his Mamie out of the Sheraton Park Hotel he appeared buoyant.

The President spoke only briefly in thanking the voters who returned him to a second term in the White House in a landslide.

"To all of the people of the United States who have understood what the administration — the Republican Party — has been trying to do in these past four years, and consequently have worked so hard for the reelection of that administration, my most grateful thanks," Mr. Eisenhower said.

The President underlined that this was a "solemn" moment even though the atmosphere at the rally was one of elation.

"And now let me say something that looks to the future," he said. "I think that modern Republicanism has now proved itself. And America has approved of modern Republicanism."

Mr. Eisenhower concluded his victory statement with this pledge: "With whatever talents the good God has given me, with whatever strength there is within me, I will continue—and so will my associates—to do just one thing: To work for 168 million Americans here at home—and for peace in the world."

BOSTON (AP) — Democratic Leader John W. McCormack and Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. both won re-election.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mamie Eisenhower, though blinking back tears, was probably the happiest woman in a jam-packed room of wildly cheering Republicans here Tuesday night.

As President Eisenhower eloquently closed his brief victory statement and thunderous applause broke loose, the bright-eyed First Lady turned to Mrs. Richard M. Nixon and murmured, "It makes me weak inside."

A moment later she was blinking back tears as her beaming husband took her arm to escort her back to the White House for another four years.

The First Lady was radiant from the moment the presidential party entered the cheering auditorium of some 1,600 happy Republicans. She came through the door first, then turned to wait for her broadly grinning husband and they entered as the "team" that

In the Senate races the Democrats had won 16 and led in 4 for an indicated total, counting 31 holdovers, of 51—2 more than a majority.

A Personal Victory
Present lineups: House, 230 Democrats, 201 Republicans, 4 vacancies. Senate, 49 Democrats, 47 Republicans.

Mr. Eisenhower's personal victory over Adlai E. Stevenson was mounting toward the third greatest electoral college landslide in U. S. history. It was the biggest Republican presidential victory in history.

At 11 a. m. CST a United Press count gave Mr. Eisenhower 30,739,088 votes and Stevenson 22,413,576. The President had 57.8 per cent of the two-party vote compared with 55 per cent in 1952.

He had won 41 states with 457 electoral votes. He needed only 266.

Stevenson had won 6 states with 66 electoral votes and was leading in 1 (Arkansas) with 8 for a projected total of 74.

Indicate TB Propositions Are Approved
Although definite figures must await the vote canvass, there were indications that the proposition of continuing care of tuberculous persons in the county would continue.

On the first of two tuberculosis care propositions, the yes or no proposition, there were returns of 111 yes votes and 84 no votes in Harrisburg 12, 213 to 81 in Carrier Mills 2 and 86 to 39 in Long Branch precincts. On the second ballot, the for or against proposition, there were 151 for and 68 against in Harrisburg 12, 157 for and 27 against in Carrier Mills 2 and 54 for and 48 against in Long Branch.

The vote in other precincts was not available.

There were indications that the Banking Act provision would carry in the county and that the Blue Ballot revenue article change would lose.

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND by DREW PEARSON

DREW PEARSON Says:
Peace In Near East Can Only
Be Resolved By Long-Range
Planning; Jews And Arabs
Have Much To Offer Each Other; Suez Canal Will Be Out Of Date In 10 Years.

WASHINGTON. — Newspapermen are supposed to report, not pontificate. But having recently returned from the Near East, and having a deep conviction that the future peace of the world is more at stake in this area than many realize, I set forth herewith a proposed pattern for peace. It is not original. Parts of it have already been proposed by Eric Johnston, an indefatigable laborer for Near East peace, by Harry Truman, by E. M. Greenwood, and others.
Here it is:

The foundation for peace in the Near East must be based on two things:

1. Arab-Jewish cooperation.
Both races have attributes the other needs. The Jews have skill, know-how, energy, determination.
The Arabs have oil, land, population, a once-great history now semi-bankrupted by corrupt leaders, poverty-stricken people and colonial exploitation. They are both Semitic peoples, and as the chief rabbi of Israel, Isaac Herzog, told me in Jerusalem about a month ago, "the Arabs are our cousins. There is no reason why we cannot live together." He cited Isaiah 19th chapter, to show that the Jews, the Egyptians, and the Syrians would inherit the Near East.

II. Reasonable guarantees for France and England and the West for ships transiting the Suez Canal and for their property and citizens in North Africa. The French and British have not always been wise in North Africa; but economically they can give that area as much as it can give them. There should be mutual cooperation.

The pattern for peace must be based upon these two foundations.
Suez cannot be settled separately from Israel-Arab friction, as Secretary Dulles tried to do. The two are wrapped up together. Israel knew that the minute Nasser had won his Suez argument he would attack Israel, so it attacked first. North Africa peace is also wrapped up in Suez. When Nasser thumbs his nose at the French and British in Egypt it immediately affects the lives and safety of French and western citizens in Algiers and Morocco. It also affects American oil in Saudi Arabia.

These problems cannot be dealt with in separate, airtight, diplomatic compartments as Dulles sought to do. They are inextricably interwoven. To solve them
I suggest the following:

A. U. N. police force, as proposed by Canadian Foreign Minister Lester Pearson to stop the fighting in Suez. This would strengthen the prestige of the badly wounded United Nations.

B. Keep the Sinai peninsula under the U. N. indefinitely, as a canal zone, similar to the Panama Canal zone. Sinai is a hot, arid desert except for the canal, which the French built and the British supported. It could become a permanent, international zone under the U. N. for the use of all nations.

C. Let the U. N. pay Egypt a regular rent for the Suez Canal Zone which would finance the Aswan dam and improve the health and living standards of the improvised Egyptian people.

D. Set up a long-range development corporation under the United Nations to develop North Africa and the Near East for the benefit of their own peoples. This corporation could borrow money from the World Bank, get matching funds from various interested governments to do the following:

1. Rebuild the irrigation system of the Tigris and Euphrates rivers. Before knocked out by Tamerlane and his Mongol hordes, this irrigation system made what is now Iraq one of the most prosperous parts of the world. If rebuilt, the area could take over many of the 900,000 Arab refugees dislocated since the Arab-Israel war.

2. Develop the irrigation of the Jordan river as proposed by Eric Johnston. This would also help settle more Arab refugees.

3. Make plans for digging another Suez Canal or else laying two more pipelines. In 10 years, so much oil will be used by western Europe that Suez will be completely out of date. Plans must be made now for the future.

HARNESSING THE DEAD SEA

4. Develop the power potential of the Dead Sea by digging a canal to it from the Mediterranean.
This canal, dropping 1300 feet, would develop enough water power to industrialize Israel. It could be the manufacturing center of the Near East.

5. Iron out the irrigation problems of the upper Nile between Egypt, the Sudan, and Ethiopia, so that the vast irrigation-power potential of that river can be fully used not only through the Aswan dam but other dams.

E. Create a United States of North Africa. A loose federation of Morocco, Algeria, Libya, with France as a member, and possibly also Spain, might be the best solution to the friction between France and her former colonies.
North Africa needs European cooperation but also wants political freedom. A loose United States of North Africa might give both.

F. Divide Jordan up between Iraq and Israel. This unhappy, unsteady kingdom, created by the British as a buffer state and prop-ed up by British subsidies and the British-trained Arab Legion, whose King Faisal is the cousin of King Hussein, with the other half, including the old city of Jerusalem, going to Israel to straighten out her border, the Near East would be far more stable.

G. Finally a United Nations cultural exchange commission should be established to promote and encourage friendship between the Arab states and Israel, and between the Arab states and the West.

The above pattern for peace, I recognize, will not be easy. But warfare over Suez has now given the excuse for a drastic, over-all housecleaning and a complete new start. The alternative is long, bitter, intermittent warfare plus the risk of war touched off by the hatreds of the Near East that might spread throughout the world.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY
They found a man of Cyrene, Simon by name; him they compelled to bear the cross. Matthew 27:32.

Men from Africa have been compelled to bear the cross for a very long time, but those that have borne it willingly have greatly profited thereby.

Baby Comes First

FARMINGTON, N. M. — Impatience cost an unidentified woman her chance to vote Tuesday.

She had waited in line at the polls more than 30 minutes when the stork suddenly became impatient. Before she could cast her ballot, she was whisked to San Juan County Hospital where she soon gave birth.

Davenport is Elected President of Kiwanis; Hall Tells of Local Plant

Richard Davenport last night was elected president of the Kiwanis club at the regular club meeting held at the Masonic temple.

He will succeed Ronnie Doerge, president of the club for this year.

Other officers elected were: Bob Rushing, vice president; Ralph Woolard, secretary; Vernard Clayton, treasurer. Both Woolard and Clayton were re-elected to office. The new board of directors, to take office Jan. 1, will be Ed Brantley, Joe Hollingsworth,
Jake Humphrey, Lee House, C. J.
Beggs and Eugene Morris.

The new officers were nominated by a committee composed of past presidents and were unimously elected by the club members.

J. O. Hall of Tison and Hall Concrete Products was the speaker at last night's meeting and discussed the concrete products of the plant here including the new Beauty stone which is being favorably received by building contractors.

Mr. Hall showed slides of new homes being built with the products being made here. The homes included seven or eight in Evansville, Ind., including a beautiful $125,000 mansion. Other homes were shown being built at Carmi, Hustatula, Ind., Louisville, Ky., and another one near Evansville.

The local plant strives for quality concrete and concrete blocks.
Mr. Hall stated, and the products are being sent periodically to the Pittsburgh Testing Laboratories and the concrete being used by the State undergo state tests, he said.

He told of the continuing shortage of cement and stated the shortage would increase next year. The local firm began production in 1945 at which time cement was 47 cents per bag. It is now $1.17 per bag, Mr. Hall stated.

John Schork was program chairman and introduced the speaker.

Ronnie Doerge, president of the club, announced the Key Club charter night would be held next Tuesday evening at which time the Key club at the high school, being sponsored by the local club, would receive its charter. He urged a 100 per cent attendance by the local club as parents of the boys in the Key club have been invited and other Key clubs and regular Kiwanis clubs in the division have been invited to attend.

Cy Hastings of the Small Business Institute at SIU, was a guest at last night's meeting.

Massachusetts GOP

At Loss to Explain

Defeat While Ike Wins

BOSTON (AP)—Massachusetts Republicans were completely at loss today to explain their "colossal defeat" by the Democrats while President Eisenhower was winning by close to 350,000 votes.

GOP State Chairman Ralph H.
Bonnell said "Something went wrong but I'm damned if I know what it was."

Democrat Foster Furcolo was elected governor, trouncing Lt.
Gov. Sumner G. Whittier by more than 150,000 votes. He carried along almost the entire state ticket.

"This was a colossal defeat—one of the worst whippings we have ever taken," Bonnell said.

Council Airs Views on Routing Rt. 13

Petitions, 710 Names, Favor Continuing Poplar Route; Others Oppose

Views were aired on the routing of State Highway 13 at yesterday's city council meeting.

Some residents favored by-passing the present Poplar street route and some favored a proposition proposed which could result in the rebuilding of Poplar street at no cost to the city but with the penalty of losing parking space if this is done. Petitions bearing 710 names asked the continuance of Route 13 through Harrisburg.

At the conclusion of the discussion, it was decided to invite a member of the highway division to come to Harrisburg and explain just exactly what the state could or would do in case the city decided upon one or the other of the proposals.

The council members expressed the desire to be guided by the will of the people on the subject.

Speak Against Poplar Plan
Several spoke against the widening and improvement of Poplar street for the route.

The Rev. W. L. Cummins, pastor of the First Methodist church who said he was speaking for himself and not for the church, declared he was against the highway going through Poplar, "with the city yielding its right-of-way to through traffic. All this traffic does is go right through your town."

E. Bishop Hill, a resident of East Poplar, said he believed the highway department wanted a wide, modern street "to get traffic thru town as fast as it can." He saw it turning into a speedway, and declared he saw no financial gain by the route going through the business section. He also pointed to the acute parking problems.

Petitions Presented
Bernie Moore presented a petition bearing 500 names which asked that the route be continued through the city. Another petition asking the same, with 210 names, also was presented.

"These names show that consideration should be given to the people who make the business places possible," Moore said. "With less parking places as a result, I think it would be up to the city and the business men to provide parking areas."

Elmer Grisham of the Operating Engineers union opposed the Poplar street program.

"In the future," he said, "it is planned that Route 13 will be a federal highway. I know this to be certain. To take parking off Poplar street would take places for about 200 places for cars. And every shade tree will be taken out."

Charlie Skaggs, druggist on Poplar, said he hadn't found any business around him in favor of the proposal, speaking from the no-parking angle.

Up to City to Decide

Guy Price, clerks union official, said he believed the city could get together with the board of supervisors on securing present court house lawn space for parking.

Mayor Claude Gibbons said negotiations already were under way to see if this could be done.

He also said the highway department is not attempting to make the Poplar street program compulsory—that it is strictly a matter for the city to decide.

Others who opposed the plan were Lewis Fulkerson and Wendell Bramlet. Claude Winkelman said he wanted more information on the subject, that assets must be weighed against liabilities.

Don Williams, commissioner, said the decision did not have to be made at the meeting and suggested that William McLeod or some other highway representative be invited to attend a meeting.

Council Complimented

"I don't think it is for five persons (the council) to make the decision," he stated. "I think we need more information and more of a test of sentiment."

The council took up Williams' suggestion.

Mayor Claude Gibbons read a letter from G. O. Davenport, president of the Harrisburg National bank, complimenting the council for its fine work. He complimented the finance commissioner, the police and fire departments, the streets and alleys department and praised the way the public property is being cared for.

Tom Davenport, Junior Chamber of Commerce president, said that the city street markers are in need of repair and painting. He reminded the council that when the Jaycees paid for and erected the markers during the previous administration, it was agreed that the city would maintain them.

Ministers Still Rank Low in Scale of Pay

WASHINGTON — Despite an upward salary trend in recent years, ministers still rank at or near the bottom of the professional pay scale, a United Press survey disclosed today.

Even school teachers — another notoriously ill-paid group — apparently are somewhat better off than preachers.

Precise comparisons are impossible because of wide variations in statistics collected by different religious bodies on clergymen's income.

The 1950 census showed that the median income of male clergymen in 1949 was $2,412—less than that of any other professional group and below many non-professional groups such as bus drivers, bakers and blacksmiths.

The United Press survey showed that ministers in many denominations have received substantial pay raises since 1949.

Dr. Benson Y. Landis, editor of the Yearbook of American Churches, pointed out, however, that these increases have been largely offset by the rise in living costs. In terms of food and clothing Dr. Landis said, "The clergy still do not come off as well as the average member of lay society."

The survey indicated that the present average income of clergymen of all faiths is substantially less than the average pay of public school teachers. The National Education Assn. estimates the average school teacher's pay at $4,100 a year.

Russian Moves in Hungary, Mid East Reminiscent Of Molotov-Stalin Days

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

It looks as if Vyacheslav M. Molotov is now directing Soviet Russia's foreign policy.

Russian moves in both the Hungarian and Middle Eastern situations are reminiscent of the days when the grim-faced Molotov and his master, Josef Stalin, were running things in Moscow.

They represent an abrupt departure from the soft policy which Communist Party leader Nikita S. Khrushchev and Premier Nikolai A. Bulganin sponsored after Stalin's death in 1953.

Molotov strongly opposed this policy from the start. And from the Russian Communist viewpoint, events have proved him right.

Molotov was Stalin's man for many years. Every evil thing that Stalin did, Molotov had a part in. Molotov remained a "Stalinist" in his thinking after the master died. Mark of Molotov

The world has been shocked by the brutal Russian suppression of the Hungarian revolt. That is the way it would have been done in the days when Stalin and Molotov were teamed up.

The belligerent communications on the Middle Eastern situation, addressed to President Eisenhower, British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and French Premier Guy Mollet, bore the signature of Bulganin. But they were throwbacks to Stalin's time.

Nobody has ever accused Molotov of being soft.

Molotov was among the intellectuals who engineered the Bolshevik coup of 1917 in the name of Russian workers and peasants.

Molotov, now 66, was 27 then, and already a comar. Like Lenin and Stalin, he was ruthless.

Record of Ruthlessness
Molotov was premier, with Stalin as general secretary of the Communist Party, when millions of Russian farmers were deliberately starved to death or sent to slave labor camps in the 1930s.

Molotov was premier during the years of the terrible purges when millions of men and women who had been loyal Communists were executed or enslaved so that Stalin could consolidate his dictatorial power.

Stalin took over the prime ministry in 1939 and Molotov became foreign minister. It was Molotov who signed the treacherous treaty with the German Nazis which smoothed the way for Hitler to launch World War II.

It was Molotov, relieved from his duties as foreign minister and put in charge of Soviet Far Eastern policy in 1949, who prepared the way for the Communist invasion of South Korea.

Molotov was brought back to the Foreign Ministry after Stalin's death, then replaced last June.

People said then that Molotov was through. It looks as if they spoke, too soon.

UN Negotiates For Police Force In Middle East

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld said today the United Nations has begun negotiations with Egyptian, British and French authorities to arrange for the stationing of an international police force in the Middle East.

Hammarskjöld told the U. N. General Assembly Maj.-Gen. E. L. M. Burns of Canada, Palestine truce supervisor now named chief of the international force, was in contact with Cairo and Cyprus, the site of the Anglo-French and Egyptian commands.

He said Burns had reported that Egyptian authorities "agreed in principle" that the Canadian should fly to Cairo, "but we await detailed arrangements. In addition, Egypt had agreed to accept 10 U. N. observers in Cairo immediately.

"The chief of command (Burns) will try to send them by road to Egypt," Hammarskjöld said.

In Cairo, a U. N. official said he expected the first elements of the international police force to arrive within a week.

Twelve countries now had pledged troops to the international unit. Romania and Czechoslovakia filed offers today, joining New Zealand, Canada, Colombia, Denmark, Norway, Pakistan, Sweden, Finland, Ceylon and India, which had previously offered.

Andrews Fails To Gain Single Electoral Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—T. Coleman Andrews, States Rights candidate for president, failed to win a single electoral vote today.

The former internal revenue commissioner who opposed the income tax was buried in President Eisenhower's landslide. So were the hopes of Andrews' supporters that his candidacy might throw the presidential race into the House of Representatives.

At mid-morning Andrews had polled 134,161 votes in nine states. Most of the total came from states in the South where Andrews, running variously under the banner of the Constitution Party or the States' Rights Party, bid for votes from foes of racial integration in the schools.

Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va.), who was put on the ballot as a States Rights candidate in three states, collected 124,131 votes.

Iowa Linebacker Lineman of Week

DES MOINES (AP)—Herschel C. Loveless, making his second bid for the state's top office, was elected the first Democratic governor of Iowa in 20 years.

Gov. Leo A. Hoegh, seeking his second term, conceded the election at 3:06 a. m.

The concession came as Loveless, one of the top Democratic vote-getters in recent years, held a steady lead.

With 1,832 of the state's 2,488 precincts reporting, Loveless had 452,001 to 422,489 for Hoegh.

Loveless, former Ottumwa mayor, will be the lone Democrat among the state's top officers and will have to deal with an overwhelmingly Republican Legislature.

Loveless overcame the personal popularity of President Eisenhower to score the stunning victory. Mr. Eisenhower himself carried the state easily, winning by a margin of about 58 per cent. He also carried Sen. Bourke B. Hickenlooper to re-election to a third term.

Peoria Voters Approve Increase in School Tax, Chlorination of Water

PEORIA, Ill. (AP)—By a margin of less than 3-2, Peoria city voters approved a 40-cent increase in their school tax rate, a step which backers said was necessary to ensure the continuation of public schools here.

The vote for the measure in Tuesday's election was 27,051 in favor, 20,963 against.

Peorians also approved a measure to chlorinate city water, voting 35,077 for, to 17,828 against.

Highway Flagman Killed by Truck

SECOR, Ill. (AP)—George Otto Pfanz, a 71-year-old highway department flagman from Pekin, was killed Tuesday when struck by a Woodford County highway truck on U. S. 24.

State police said Pfanz jumped in front of the truck driven by Carl Wessel, 57, Secor, while working on the road.

When the Continental Army was organized in 1775, George Washington was appointed to command although he had never commanded any unit higher than a regiment of Virginia volunteers.

Totally Disabled He Can Still Write

MILWAUKEE — A polio patient at the Veteran's Administration Hospital here has been without the use of his arms and legs for almost four years, but has entered some 75 writing contests, winning four prizes.

Arthur L. Koch, 29, is a totally disabled polio patient. He sleeps in a portable chest respirator but doesn't need it during the day when he does his writing.

For typing Koch uses an aluminum tube about 15 inches long with a mouthpiece at one end and a rubber thumb at the other. He can type from 15 to 20 words a minute.

When he wants to write, the ambitious veteran, who finished his high school education in the Navy, has a nurse slip the filler from a ball point pen into a perpendicular tube just above the thumb.

Some of the prizes Koch has won for his writing ability are a dresser set, which he earned in a jingle contest, aimed to get people to do their Christmas shopping in drug-stores, and two tickets to a Braves' baseball game for writing 25 words on his favorite Brave, Gene Conley.

Koch is married and the father of two young daughters.

Estimate Three Months to Clear Suez for Shipping

LONDON — Shipping experts said today it will take at least three months to clear the Suez Canal of sunken ships and other obstacles and reopen the vital waterway to shipping.

At least nine ships are known to block the narrow channel of the 101-mile canal linking the Mediterranean and Red Seas. The Ferden bridge near Ismailia also is wrecked.

According to latest reports, 4 block ships have been sunk at Port Said on the northern end, 2 near Ismailia at the midway point, and 3 at Port Suez, the southern entrance.

Experts said the salvage operations will be one of the most difficult in modern history.

An Anglo-French headquarters communique said salvage work started Tuesday at the northern entrance. The Admiralty said frogmen were flown into the Port Said area to help in the task of clearing the entrance to the canal.

150 Persons Attend PTA Meeting at Grade School

Approximately 150 persons attended the PTA meeting at the Carrier Mills grade school recently. Following the invocation by Raymond Rann a delicious covered dish dinner was enjoyed by the group.

Mrs. Rena Brackney and her grade band entertained by presenting a concert.

Six girls presented an excellent display of twirling under the direction of Betsy Ammon. They were Judy Murphy, Vicki Fife, Connie Martin, Dinah Rodocker, Vicki McCafferty and Jennie Lou Sweet. Under the direction of Nadine Kipp seven little twirlers pranced out on the floor and went through their routine to the delight of all. They were led by Patty Johnson followed by Susan Hearn, Becky Meler, Myra Jo Kidd, Susan Kipp, Geraldine Mitchell and Susie Owen.

Mrs. Knickerbocker's sixth grade received the banner for having the most parents and teachers present. Mrs. Holloway, Mrs. McDonald and Mrs. Kihlmyre were presented checks for their rooms which won at the Halloween parade.

Mary Ella Sweat, Dorothy and Foster McCafferty, Lorene Dunaway, Wanda Sweat and Juanita Russell were appointed on a committee to make a float for the homecoming parade. A coffee is to be held in the home of Judy Fife on Thompson street Thursday morning, Nov. 8, and all friends and parents are invited. The next PTA meeting will be December 8. At this meeting Sgt. Lendell Rockwell will give a safety lesson and the fifth grades will present a puppet show.

Day of the Outlaw

By Lee Wells

Copyright 1955, by Lee Wells. Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: Dan Murdock, foreman, and Rancher Blaise Starrett of the Star spread, did not know when they rode into Bitter, Wyo., ahead of a thaw, that outlaws were headed in the same direction. Complicating matters is the tension between Starrett and Hal Crane, owner of the HC ranch, which the Star wants to acquire.

IV
Dan glanced beyond the far end of the bar and saw that Ava watched him. She gave him a long, searching look and then, with a slight move of the head invited him to join her.

"Did you lose your best friend?" she asked in her husky voice. Dan smiled.

"That bad? Just thinking." Ava leaned back. It was said that Tommy met her in Denver where she sang and danced in a big saloon. Her lips were painted and her cheeks rouged, and even without these she was a striking woman. Her hair was piled high in a profusion of small curls and ringlets. She wore a wine-purple dress, cut low at the neck.

"Thinking." She studied her hands and the emerald she wore on a slim finger beside the broad gold band of a wedding ring. "I do too much of it."

"Too much?" Dan said in slight surprise.

"What else is there to do?" Dan watched her moody face with its bold beauty. Tommy had no business bringing her here. She's used to crowds and excitement. She'll blow up someday and leave him.

The door opened and Dan heard a man stomp the snow off his boots. Lewis and Claggett turned, expectant. Dan looked over his shoulder and saw Hal Crane walk to a table and lift a finger to Tommy.

The door opened again and Tommy looked up.

"Well! Here's your boss, Dan."

Dan hastily turned. He saw Starrett but his glance quickly moved to Hal Crane and his two riders. They sat very still, watching Starrett with level eyes, their faces suddenly expressionless.

Starrett's stride broke when he saw Crane and the two HC men. Dan grew tense. Then Starrett gave them the briefest of nods, his eyes veiling. It was enough. Crane eased slightly in his chair and Dan, too, felt relief.

Starrett glanced at Hal Crane. He hitched at the gunbelt under his coat and walked to the table. The three men looked up, startled. Lewis became suddenly alert and deadly. Claggett sank back so that he could easily reach his gun. Crane stiffened slightly but he remained seated, unmoving, only his eyes glittering. Starrett halted a few feet from the table.

"I want to talk to you." His voice was flat and harsh. Dan started to ease out of his chair and Ava had forgotten her game, sensing the tension in the room. Crane folded his hands on the table.

"Nothing to stop you, Starrett. I'm listening."

"Alone," Starrett snapped and his arrogant glance cut to the two riders. Crane studied Starrett, taking his time.

"Talk?" he asked finally, "or quarrel?"

Starrett's lips thinned but he shrugged. "Talk, Crane. A business deal—between you and me."

Crane studied him a moment, then glanced at his men and gave a slight nod toward the bar. Lewis and Claggett walked to the bar, making an elaborate business of eyeing Starrett.

But he paid no attention. He pulled out a chair and sat down across the table from Crane. He leaned forward and spoke in a low tone, quickly and earnestly. Crane listened and then slowly leaned forward himself. Dan walked to the bar.

He turned to rest elbows on the bar, one heel hooked in the rail below. Lewis ordered another drink and Dan heard Tommy stir busily behind him. Suddenly Starrett jumped up and his chair teetered back, caught against the one behind it.

"You're a fool, Crane." Crane's voice cut like a whip. "Get this straight, Starrett. HC can take care of itself. Don't think you can force us out. Star's not big enough and never will be. If you want to prove it, just start any time you're ready."

Starrett stood rigid, his hands some face a dull red, his pale eyes ablaze. Dan knew Starrett would take the challenge here and now and he forgot everything but his ingrained loyalty to Star. He looked from the corners of his eyes at the two HC men. He came slowly up on the balls of his feet, tensed and poised. He could drop his glass, slash down for his gun and cover the two men at the first move from Starrett.

Starrett's hand clenched, opened, clenched again. Crane's hands hung lightly at his side, the right just below his holstered gun. HC or Star would be without a boss, one or the other, in a matter of seconds.

The front door opened and men crowded in. Dan's eyes cut to them, recognized none. One was a granite, square-faced man with an air of authority. The rest crowded in behind him, a motley, hardcase crew. One of them, with the bland face of a teen-age kid, recognized the signs of an incipient fight and his pale eyes lighted in a strange, unholy pleasure. Another man, pinch-eyed and stubble-cheeked, glanced at the big man with a twisted grin. His voice carried clearly.

"Looks like we stepped into something, Jack. Maybe we can see how amateurs sling a gun. Me, I'll bet on the gent behind the table."

Dan heard Tommy Rikes' frightened gasp.

Local Employment Office to Give State Tests for Typists, Stenographers

Cooperative testing of Clerk-Typists and Clerk-Stenographers by the Illinois State Employment Service and the Illinois Civil Service Commission is now being done, Perry R. Moore, manager of the Harrisburg local office of the Employment Service, announced today. "This program of testing will save the time and money of applicants for clerical positions in the State Civil Service and will help state departments to fill their vacancies more quickly," Mr. Moore stated.

In the past, typists and stenographers who wanted to work for the state had to travel on their own time and at their own expense to one of the Commission's Examination Centers located in Chicago, Elgin, Galesburg, Kankakee, Mt. Vernon, Springfield and West Frankfort to take the qualifying tests. Under the new program, local offices of the Illinois State Employment Service, except those in the cities named above, including the office in Harrisburg, are giving the tests. The Commission will continue to give the tests in their established examination centers. This has the effect of establishing 37 new examination centers for the Commission.

The new program means that applicants interested in State employment as typists and stenographers can contact the Employment Service office, make application and take the examinations. More applicants are expected to apply for these positions because of the increased number of centers. State agencies anticipate that as a result, their job vacancies can be filled more quickly.

Positions covered by this program include those of Clerk-Typist I and Clerk-Stenographer I and II. Both the Illinois State Civil Service Commission and the Employment Service will administer identical tests.

Janitor Turns in Broom To Become Teacher

WORCESTER, Mass. — Worcester School Department is giving one of its janitors a crack at teaching.

Joseph J. Hastings, 44, laid aside his broom and received a three-month leave of absence from the custodian force to try his hand as a substitute teacher. He hopes later to be appointed a regular.

Hastings, a graduate of Holy Cross College, gave up a prior teaching job at Fort Kent, Me., because it was 500 miles from home.

He took an intensive elementary teaching course this summer and passed the national teaching examinations.

Democrats Sweep Missouri Offices

ST. LOUIS (U.P.)—Adlai E. Stevenson, benefiting from farm unrest, wrested Missouri's 13 electoral votes from President Eisenhower today as Democrats made a clean sweep of state offices.
Returns from 3,905 of 4,565 precincts gave Eisenhower 727,658 and Stevenson 700,488. Mr. Eisenhower, who won the state in 1952, failed to pile up his previous heavy majority in rural Missouri and tumbled before the heavily Democratic votes of St. Louis and Kansas City.
Democrats also returned U. S. Sen. Thomas C. Hennings Jr. to office with a majority of 170,000 and easily elected Lt. Gov. James T. Blair Jr. as governor.

Stevenson Urges Americans to Unite Behind Ike

CHICAGO (U.P.)—Adlai E. Stevenson accepted defeat with a smile today and called on all Americans to unite behind President Eisenhower in time of international trouble.
Some of Stevenson's supporters shed tears when the Democratic presidential candidate conceded at 12:20 a. m. CST that he had suffered his second straight landslide loss to Mr. Eisenhower.

But Stevenson was unshaken. He took it almost as if he had been resigned to the likelihood of defeat.

"It was a great campaign," Stevenson remarked while in a hotel elevator on his way to read his concession statement. "We did the best we could."

Six Hours of Bad News

Stevenson spent six hours in the presidential suite of the Sheraton-Blackstone hotel Tuesday night, watching the bad news come across the television screens.

Then he walked across the street to the grand ballroom of the Conrad Hilton Hotel to admit defeat in a statement to several hundred followers gathered there.

He opened by reading a telegram he sent to the President: "You have won not only the election, but also an expression of the great confidence of the American people. I send you my warm congratulations."

"Tonight we are not Republicans and Democrats, but Americans." "We appreciate the grave difficulties your administration faces, and, as Americans, join in wishing you all success in the years that lie ahead."

The defeated candidate urged his followers to "give the administration all responsible support in the troubled times ahead."

In closing his concession statement, Stevenson referred to the birth of his first grandchild Sunday, a son born to Mr. and Mrs.

William Gibbs, 71, Retired Miner, Dies

William Gibbs, 71, retired coal miner who resided at 815 East Poplar, died at 12:30 p. m. yesterday in the Harrisburg hospital where he had been a patient for two days.
He is survived by his wife, Blanche.

The body will lie in state at the Gibbons funeral chapel where services will be held Friday at 2 p. m. Burial will be in Sunset Hill cemetery.

Gov. Mennen Williams Re-Elected in Michigan

DETROIT (U.P.)—Democratic Gov. G. Mennen Williams ran against a Republican tide supporting President Eisenhower to win an unprecedented fifth term as Michigan's chief executive.

While the President was whipping Adlai Stevenson by more than 100,000 votes, Williams was thumping Republican Mayor Albert E. Cobo of Detroit by an almost equal margin.

Adlai E. Stevenson Jr., in Boston. "As for me, there shall be no tears," he told his backers. "I may have lost an election, but I won a grandchild."

all over except for the detailed totting up since 12:20 a. m. CST when Stevenson walked into a jammed Chicago hotel room and conceded defeat with a plea for national unity in a time of peril.

Mr. Eisenhower responded with a message of gratitude to the defeated Democrat. He told Stevenson "I greatly appreciate your pledge of cooperation for the immediate future and for the four years that lie ahead."

Assuming, as seemed certain, that the Democrats also retained control of the Senate, it will be only the second time in history that a winning presidential candidate did not carry at least one of the house of Congress with him.

The last time was in 1848 when Zachary Taylor, a Whig, won the presidency but the Democrats took the Senate and House.

Larger than 1952 Margin

Mr. Eisenhower's electoral vote margin was larger even than his 1952 victory over Stevenson when the count was 442-89. Only two other landslides have been greater—Franklin D. Roosevelt's 523-8 victory over Alf M. Landon in 1936 and FDR's 472-55 defeat of Herbert Hoover in 1932.

It appeared possible the President might even equal or surpass his popular vote of 33,937,252 in 1952, the largest ever amassed by any candidate in the past.

Stevenson won only in Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi, Missouri, North Carolina, and South Carolina. He led in Arkansas.

Mr. Eisenhower got all the rest. He cracked the once Solid South again to win Texas, Virginia, and Florida, which he carried four years ago, and to add Louisiana this time.

It was a personal victory for General Ike rather than a party victory. The voters freely split their ballots to vote for Democratic congressmen, even in some states where the President had a hand-picked candidate running.

GOP Edge for Governors

Republicans were, however, taking an edge in the governor races. With 29 governorships at stake the Republicans won 13 and were leading in 3 of the 4 races undecided at 11 a. m. CST. The three were Montana, Oregon and Rhode Island.

Democrats won in 12 states and were leading in Minnesota.

Stevenson took his defeat with a smile and a quip. He said, "I lost a political campaign, but I won a grandson."

Indiana Re-Elects Sen. Capehart

INDIANAPOLIS (U.P.)—President Eisenhower won Indiana's 13 electoral votes in a landslide which carried Sen. Homer E. Capehart to victory in his bid for a third term and kept the governor's in Republican hands.

With 90 per cent of the ballots counted, it was Eisenhower 1,050,597 and Stevenson 695,149. The President's plurality was the greatest ever piled up by a presidential candidate in Indiana, exceeding Mr. Eisenhower's 1952 margin over Stevenson. Indiana has given its electoral votes to Republicans since 1940.

Capehart defeated former Agriculture Secretary Claude R. Wickard by upwards of 200,000 votes. Lt. Gov. Harold W. Handley was elected governor over Mayor Ralph Tucker of Terre Haute by about 225,000 votes.

Democrats failed to gain in the Hoosier delegation to Congress. The present lineup is 19 Republicans and 2 Democrats.

Picking the Grid Winners

IN THE Sports Parade

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — The election is over but you can still pick football winners even though you may wind up in the poor house instead of the White House.

So without benefit of voting machines here are Fearless Fraley's ballots for the weekend football campaign.

Game of the Week

Tennessee over Georgia Tech — It's the Solid South against the Solid South and something has to give. Bowden Wyatt has developed an old-fashioned single wing crusher with tailback Johnny Majors directing the hammer blows. Tech has more depth but the Vols all season have done more than expected. So on to the Southeastern Conference championship and the Sugar Bowl for Tennessee.

The East

Pittsburgh over Notre Dame — The Irish have been disfranchised. Princeton over Harvard — Another landslide for unbeaten Tigers. Syracuse over Holy Cross — Don't even wait for the final returns.

Army over William & Mary

Without benefit of woman suffrage. Also Columbia over Dartmouth, Boston College over Quantico, Cornell over Brown, Penn State over Boston and Yale over Pennsylvania.

The Midwest

Minnesota over Iowa — I go-pher a candidate like this. Michigan State over Purdue — Looks like a case for state's rights.

Missouri over Colorado

The Tigers are faurtoious this season. Oklahoma over Iowa State — And you should stuff the ballot box. Michigan over Illinois — Farm vote could upset this race.

Also Ohio State over Indiana

Northwestern over Wisconsin, Nebraska over Kansas, Marquette over Kansas State, Cincinnati over Wichita, Detroit over Drake.

The South

Navy over Duke — Sailors entitled to absentee vote. Clemson over Maryland — Orange is a campaign issue.

Florida over Georgia

An orange over a peach. Also Kentucky over Vanderbilt, Auburn over Mississippi State, LSU over Oklahoma A&M, South Carolina over North Carolina State, Tulane over Alabama, Virginia Tech over Wake Forest and North Carolina over Virginia.

The Southwest

Texas A&M over Southern Methodist — Didn't get out the church vote. Arkansas over Rice — Pork is a farm surplus.

Baylor over Texas

Longhorns not such tough meat this year. Also Texas Christian over Texas Tech, Houston over Tulsa.

The Far West

Oregon State over Stanford — Big boom in northwest territory. Washington over UCLA — You couldn't vote if you didn't register.

Southern California over California

The returns come in late here. Also Oregon over Washington State, College of Pacific over San Jose, Utah over Colorado A&M, Wyoming over Montana, Denver over Brigham Young.

China, Spain And Holland Quit Olympics

MELBOURNE (AP) — Communist China, Spain and Holland withdrew from the 1956 Olympic Games Tuesday, causing Australian officials to fear they might be preparing for a "ghost Olympiad."

The Peiping Radio announced that Communist China, which had planned to send a team of 160, was withdrawing because the International Olympic Committee also had invited Formosa (Nationalist China) to take part in the games.

Australian Olympic officials still refused to discuss the effect the fighting in the Middle East and Europe might have on the games, which open Nov. 22. But one said: "Preparations are really hectic now. It's dreadful to imagine we might be preparing for a ghost Olympiad."

Jose Luis Arrese, Falange Party minister, announced withdrawal of Spain's five-man team at Madrid. The withdrawal of the Netherlands team was announced at The Hague. Both withdrew because of the tense world situation.

Egypt and Iraq withdrew from the games upon the outbreak of hostilities in the Mideast last week. The five nations that definitely have withdrawn left a total of 69 in the competition. Norway and Switzerland have considered pulling out of the games but have not yet taken action. Israel will send only part of the team it originally planned to enter.

A German scientist named Martin Heinrich Klaproth first identified uranium in 1789 while studying ores of the Jachymov silver mines of Bohemia, now part of Czechoslovakia.

Stanford Back Has Passing Title Wrapped Up

NEW YORK (AP) — It looks as if John Brodie of Stanford now has the forward passing championship of this college football season "wrapped up," but things are far different in the battle for the rushing and total offense titles.

Weekly official major college football statistics issued today by the NCAA showed Brodie with a whopping lead over Ralph Hunsaker of Arizona in the passing derby with 91 completions to Hunsaker's 63.

But Brodie's lead in the total offense race is much narrower over Paul Hornung, the "shining light" in a dismal season for Notre Dame. Brodie has gained 1,144 yards (including a loss of 1 yard in the rushing department) to Hornung's 1,100.

The blond Hornung, who has accounted for 54.9 percent of his team's yardage, has a slightly better gaining average than Brodie, 165.8 yards per game to Brodie's 163.4. That could mean a close finish since Hornung has one game more than Brodie left to play.

Jim Crawford of Wyoming, who stands fourth on the total offense list, holds a precarious lead in the rushing department with a total of 912 yards gained on the ground. Bill Barnes of Wake Forest stands second with 756, but has an extra game "in hand" to make up lost ground.

Wehmeier Signs Cardinal Contract

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Herman Wehmeier, a pitcher who owes his effectiveness to his leg as well as his arm, became the first member of the St. Louis Cardinals to sign a 1957 contract Tuesday.

General Manager Frank Lane said the big right-hander received a salary boost which was "commensurate with the improvement in his pitching."

Oregon State Mentor Named Coach of Week

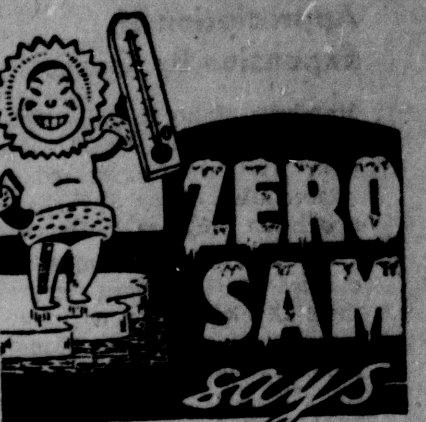

CORVALLIS, Ore. (AP) — He played in the Rose Bowl game once but the Rose Bowl itself was more than 3,000 miles away.

This time he'd like to get his boys at least close enough to smell the flowers, and the way they are going that fragrance could be theirs to enjoy on New Year's Day.

He's the United Press Coach of the Week, Tommy Prothro of those surprising Oregon State Beavers.

Just a year ago when Prothro took over as head coach, he inherited the remnants of the worst football team in Oregon State history. He guided the Beavers to a 6-3 won-lost record, and this season he has steered them to the top in the tough Pacific Coast conference.

If they can get by Stanford Saturday, they should make it to Pasadena, because only Idaho and Oregon, both comparative weaklings, remain after that.
